

Andrea Bing Jamison's Biography

Andrea Bing Jamison is a motivated, resourceful and highly skilled counseling professional who offers extensive experience in both school counseling and individual/family-based mental health counseling.

Andrea is the author of Kaleidoscope – Making The Necessary Adjustments To See Yourself As God Sees You (2014) and is a co-author of The Self-Esteem Guide for Women: How to Build Confidence; Chapter Entitled: Pick Up the Pieces (2015).

Andrea has been the keynote speaker for woman's workshops, Bible studies and conferences. Some topics include: Lord, Are You Directing My Path?, Women Walking in Wisdom and Wellness; Life After Divorce; A Path To A Better You; Improving Your Interpersonal Style of Relating in Any Relationship; Cyberbullying – Could It Be My Child?

Andrea is a partner at Victory in Christ Christian Center located in Westville, NJ under the Pastorship of Bishop John and Pastor Isha Edmondson. Andrea is the facilitator of a woman's small group once a month entitled "Beauty for Ashes". This Group focuses on helping women find healing in areas where they feel wounded, broken or devalued. Isaiah 61:1-3 confirms that the Lord wants to give us His beauty for our ashes.

Andrea holds a Master of Science Degree in Christian Counseling, Certificate in Advanced Specialization in Christian Counseling, a Bachelor of Science Degree in Biblical Studies with an Emphasis in Christian Leadership from Cairn University, Langhorne, PA., and is Dual Certified as a School Counselor in the States of Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Andrea lives in New Jersey, with her husband, Calvin, and together, they have seven adult children and 15 grandchildren.

Andrea's favorite scripture and quote are:

"As iron sharpens iron, so a man sharpens the countenance of a friend." Proverbs 27:17

"The moment you settle for less than what you deserve, is the moment you get less than what you settled for." Maureen Dowd
